re: Position: Architect

Position Title: Architect
City: Indianapolis, Indiana

Interest:

Synthesis Incorporated is currently seeking an architect with enthusiasm and dedication to contribute to the success of our growing design practice. Candidate should have extensive healthcare architecture expertise. Experience with the initial stages of planning and programming of healthcare projects is a plus. Preferred candidate will have an aptitude for interacting and responding to multi-tiered clients, including academic medical centers/programs, and urban and community hospital systems.

Synthesis believes that our role encompasses more than simply understanding how buildings, spaces and site relate to one another; it's about making lives better. Our integrated approach offers a unique combination of design, master planning, and facility/operational assessments. Synthesis designs and implements patient-focused healthcare environments that assist hospitals in achieving both clinical and operational efficiencies.
